Dear Harry:

Thank you for your letter of 4 September. I shall be interested in hearing further from you on the new setup.

Respecting [redacted] I am informed that due to a recent shift, the position for which she was being considered was filled by an employee within the Agency, and at the present time there are no other vacancies for someone of her qualifications. Therefore, my own advice to Miss [redacted] would be to seek permanent employment elsewhere, since it is not known when a vacancy for which she is qualified might develop. [redacted] has, of course, been appropriately advised of the status of her application by letter.

Mrs. Smith is on her way to the Coast at present, and from all reports having a wonderful time. Meanwhile, I keep well and busy here in Washington.

Faithfully,

/a/ Ridell
